

polygon

a shape with many angles

monochrome

having one color

monocle

eyeglass for one eye

monologue

a long speech given by one person

amoral

without morals

abyss

without a bottom like a bottomless pit theology

the study of god or gods

apathy

without feelings about something

polychrome

having many colors

monopoly

when one company controls most of a product or service